I started painting seriously when my husband took early retirement and we moved to the Cape from New Jersey.

Having made good friends with some native Cape Codders I was shown some of the Cape the average tourists seldom have time to see. It inspired me to pursue my art work starting with adult school and then lessons with some very good Cape artists.

It has become a large part of my life, with the beauty of nature around me a bonus to enjoy. I hope I have captured some of that in my work.

Welcome to Eastham

On behalf of our advertisers... welcome to the town of Eastham.

We hope this guidebook will help make your stay an enjoyable one. There are many articles with interesting tidbits about Eastham to enhance your visit: facts of historic significance, unique stores to shop, and memorable restaurants. There are many things to do and see, no matter what the weather or season. Whatever it is — let it add to the Eastham experience.

We continue to choose scenes of Eastham for the cover done by local artists. This will not only represent our lovely area but also introduce local artists and their work to our visitors.

This book is published by Thompson's Printing, Inc., a family-owned printing business operating in Orleans for over 50 years. We also publish visitor guides to Orleans, Chatham and Harwich.

We are the largest commercial printer on the Lower Cape and offer an array of services from black and color copying and faxing to design and printing.

THANK YOU FOR VISITING EASTHAM

HISTORY OF EASTHAM

When Champlain entered Nauset Harbor in 1605 Native American homes were visible on the hills. They had successfully occupied Cape Cod for ten thousand years. They harvested plant foods that grew around them, game from the hardwood forests, fish and shellfish in the fresh and salt waters. They also raised crops of vegetables such as corn and squash to round out a healthy and varied diet. White settlers and their European diseases decimated the Native American population but words from their language such as Aspinet, Nauset, Samoset, and Massasoit are still in common use today. White settlers arrived from the Plymouth Colony in 1644 to settle a large area of the Lower Cape including present day Eastham. In 1651 the town of Eastham was incorporated. In 1797 the southern half split from the northern half to become the town of Orleans. They supported their families by farming and fishing. At one time the production of salt and the growing of asparagus and turnips were important industries. The hardwood forests were cut for lumber and fuel and to create fields. By 1900 Eastham was devoid of trees as can be seen in old photographs. The soil is poor and property is now more valuable as homesites so the farms are gone. However, fishing is still a local industry. Summer visitors started arriving when the railroad arrived on the Lower Cape. They stayed in hotels and boarding houses or bought houses and brought their families for the whole summer. Eastham still has many small three-season houses and cottages. With the advent of the automobile visitors can now comfortably come for a day or weekend as well as for longer periods of time.

Eastham has retained its rural flavor while next door Orleans has become the commercial hub of the Lower Cape. The creation of the Cape Cod National Seashore in 1961 has helped to preserve the rural flavor and prevented over development. The population, which fluctuates with the seasons, is an eclectic blend of descendants of the original settlers, young families, retirees, summer people, and tourists.

Beaches/Town Landings

Beautiful beaches are one of the main reasons people choose to visit Eastham. The white sands invite beach chairs, towels, shovels and pails. The clean, clear waters beckon swimmers, waders and surfers. Year-round they are used by walkers, fishermen, shellfishermen, bird watchers, and for watching the sun rise in the morning and set in the evening. There are two major beaches on the Atlantic Ocean and several on the calmer, warmer Cape Cod Bay. There are also beaches on freshwater Great and Herring Ponds. Town landings provide access to both fresh and salt waters.

BIKING! BIKING!

Summer crowds are a welcome sight, but they can be overwhelming. A way to find quiet places away from the multitude is cycling. Pack a picnic and tour the back roads of Cape Cod.

The Cape Cod Rail Trail is a thirty-mile-long bike path that follows the route of the old Penn Central Railroad. The trail winds through Dennis, Harwich, Orleans, Brewster, Eastham and Wellfleet.

A connecting railway went from Harwich to Chatham and is now the Chatham/Harwich Rail Trail. It has been completed from the Cape Cod Rail Trail as far as the Harwich/Chatham town line.

The roads of Cape Cod are congested during the summer so please cycle cautiously. Wear safety equipment and obey the rules of cycling.

CAPE COD NATIONAL SEASHORE

In 1961 President Kennedy signed a bill which forever protected over 40,000 acres and almost 30 miles of shoreline on Cape Cod from Chatham to Provincetown. The National Seashore maintains beaches, hiking and biking trails, and historic buildings for the enjoyment of all. It has two visitor centers, one in Eastham and the other in Provincetown. The Salt Pond Visitor Center in Eastham is on the corner of Route 6 and Doane Road and is open daily 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., 255-3421. It features an auditorium where orientation movies are shown, a museum, a gift shop/bookstore, and an information desk that is staffed by knowledgeable rangers. They have brochures describing the National Seashore, its areas and its many activities. It is open daily from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. (4:30 p.m. off season). There is a bike trail and walking trails that start at the center. They are described elsewhere. Look into the Junior Ranger Program for children.

On the lawn are the jawbones of a Finback Whale.

WINDMILL, on the Green, Route 6, Eastham center

Owned and operated by the town of Eastham

Open during summer from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

This typical windmill was built in 1680 in Plimouth, and was moved to Truro before arriving in Eastham on a site near Salt Pond. In 1808 it was moved to its present location where it was used until 1896. In 1928 the town of Eastham bought the mill and, when repairs were completed, opened it to the public in 1936. The town still employs millers who explain and demonstrate its use during the summer months. There are benches on the green.

SWIFT-DALEY HOUSE, Route 6.

Owned and operated by the Eastham Historical Society.

Open Monday through Friday, July and August, Saturdays in September, 1-4 p.m.

This bowed-roof, Cape Cod-style house was built in 1741. It is completely furnished and has collections of clothing, china, quilts, and Indian artifacts. An outbuilding houses hundreds of tools. There is also an authentic "beach shack" on the grounds.

SITE OF THE FIRST ENCOUNTER, First Encounter Beach, Samoset Road. This is where an exploring party from the "Mayflower" met Native Americans for the first time. Follow the asphalt path on the north side of the parking lot at the top of the hill where there is a monument commemorating the event.

SALT POND VISITOR CENTER, Route 6, contains a museum with exhibits of Cape Cod's human and natural history.

CAPTAIN PENNIMAN HOUSE, Fort Hill Road, is a Victorian house built in 1876 by the captain of a whaling ship. Jawbones from a whale form a gate. Interpretive sign. Check at the Salt Pond Visitor Center if you wish to view the interior.

The THREE SISTERS, Cable Road. In 1892 these three wooden towers replaced three brick towers that fell into the sea. The single lighthouse that can be seen near the beach later replaced them. After being used as summer cottages for years, they were restored by the National Seashore. The desk at the Salt Pond Visitor Center will have information about viewing the interiors. Park in the Nauset Light Beach parking lot and follow the path/signs.

NAUSET LIGHT, Nauset Light Beach. This picturesque lighthouse, its oil house and keepers house were owned and operated by the Coast Guard. When use of the light was discontinued, ownership was transferred to the National Park Service. When erosion by the ocean threatened to tumble them down the bluff the Nauset Light Preservation Society was formed, funds collected, and in 1996 the lighthouse and oil house were moved back from the edge. They are now being restored and maintained by the Society who also conduct tours during the summer. The keeper's house is also owned by the National Park Service and was moved away from the bluff in 1998. It is used as a private residence. Park in the beach parking lot and follow the path/signs to the lighthouse.

COAST GUARD STATION, Doane Road. This photogenic station was built in 1937 to replace an older station that was lost to erosion. It now belongs to the National Seashore and was used as the headquarters building when the park was getting established. Students participating in an overnight environmental education program now use it.

UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, 220 Samoset Road, is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. It also has a sign explaining its Peat Septic System.

WHALES

One hundred years ago America's first conservationist, Henry David Thoreau, walked Cape Cod and chronicled his venture. Thoreau's conservationist philosophy was a foreign idea back then, but today it has taken firm hold on Cape Cod. A small portion of benefactors of Thoreau's work have been the whales who summer to the north of Provincetown.

During the time Thoreau wandered this area whaling fleets still hunted these giants. The hunting continued until it was realized the whale population was at a critical junction. As yesterday's conservationists pushed to ban whaling a new industry emerged—whale watching. A desire to experience the co-existence of the biggest creature on the face of the earth and man, gave birth to this gentler industry.

Whales migrate during the spring to a feeding ground just north of Cape Cod called Stellwagen Bank. During the summer months these saltwater mammals feed on the abundant plankton in the Bank's waters.

Provincetown is the whale watching capital of the Eastern Seaboard. Since the whales stay off the coast for months, the tours can almost guarantee a sighting on each trip. Also, the proximity of Stellwagen Bank to Provincetown provides short trips to the areas, and longer stays for observations. Whale watching trips have been known to encounter several species on one trip.

The sighting of a whale is a memorable experience. The ocean's giants seem to welcome visits from tours and the observer can often sense their peaceful co-existence with man.

SPORTS

FRESHWATER FISHING

Great, Herring, and Minister Ponds offer excellent freshwater fishing from shore or boat. Boat motors are restricted to three horsepower on all but Great Pond where up to 50 hp motors may be used. Boat must be inspected annually by Department of Natural Resources and display a sticker. During cold winters ice fishing is a possibility. There are trout, large or small mouth bass, pickerel, perch, catfish, and bluegills. When fishing from shore please respect private property. A Massachusetts freshwater fishing license is required. It may be purchased at sporting goods stores, bait shops, or from the Town Clerk at Town Hall.

SALTWATER FISHING

Striped bass, bluefish, cod, mackerel, flounder, haddock, pollock, tautog, black sea bass, shark, and tuna are saltwater species pursued by fishermen in local waters. Whether fishing from shore or boat, using boat, casting, fly rods, live bait, plugs, or flies there is fishing fun for everyone. Take a four or eight hour charter trip out of Rock Harbor. All captains and boats are Coast Guard approved. Their boats will accommodate up to six people and all bait and tackle is provided. Try your hand at surf fishing from the ocean beaches. Fly-fishing can be done in almost any waters. A striped bass on the end of your fly line is something to remember. No license is required for saltwater fishing but there are minimum size and catch limits.

SHELLFISHING

The coves and flats of Eastham are home to soft-shelled, sea, and razor clams, quahogs, scallops, oysters, and mussels. Salt Pond is stocked regularly with quahogs for the harvesting enjoyment of residents and visitors alike on Sundays throughout the year. A permit is required for the taking of shellfish. It may be purchased at the Department of Natural Resources, Old Orchard Road. Proper tools are required and can be found at local hardware, bait, and sports shops.

BOATING

A variety of boating may be done in the waters in and around town. Canoes and kayaks will find the Town Cove/Salt Pond/Nauset Marsh area particularly suitable. The National National Seashore, Massachusetts Audubon and Cape Cod Museum of Natural History offer guided canoe tours.

Motorized boats of up to three hp are permitted on freshwater ponds, up to 50 hp on Great Pond. Water-skiing is allowed on even numbered days only. Large boats should launch at Rock Harbor with its access to Cape Cod Bay. All boaters should take great care when near the inlet at the Nauset Harborway. Tidal currents are very powerful and can be quite dangerous. Launching ramps and areas are described elsewhere in this book. Check them out before trying to use them to be sure it is suitable for you and your boat. Remember that salt waters are tidal and will affect launching and navigating in many areas. Local conditions can affect the tidal period. Be sure to get a tide table for the area you will be boating. Mooring registration and regulations may be obtained from the Department of Natural Resources, Old Orchard Road.

BIRD WATCHING

The Cape is an excellent place to bird. The many different habitats ensure a good variety of species. Any of the trails listed above are good places to start. Great and Herring Ponds have numerous ducks until they freeze over. The bay, ocean, and inland shores are excellent for sea ducks, grebes, gulls, shorebirds, etc.

Good Birding!

SURFING/WINDSURFING

Surfing the ocean waves is a popular sport and windsurfing can be done on the ocean, bay, cove, or Great Pond. All surfing must be done outside of areas protected by lifeguards.

SWIMMING

There are freshwater beaches on both sides of Great Pond. The town maintains several beaches on Cape Cod Bay. The Cape Cod National Seashore operates two ocean beaches. Refer the section on BEACHES elsewhere in this book for particulars.

The Eastham Recreation and Beach Services Department holds swimming lessons mornings for children aged 3 - 16 at the beach in Wiley Park Conservation Area, Herring Brook Road. Registration on Mondays, 9-12 am, late June to mid-August.

BIKING

Hikers, rollerbladers, horseback riders, etc also use most bike paths. Please be cautious and courteous. Ride safely, wear a helmet, and be sure to stop and look at intersections with roads. Rental bikes are available in Eastham.

THE CAPE COD RAIL TRAIL is named for the former railroad bed that this 26-mile trail follows. It runs from Dennis to Wellfleet traversing the town of Eastham from north to south. It passes through woods, by fields, freshwater ponds and salt marshes. Short detours will take you to beaches, parks, and restaurants, etc. Several accommodations provide access to the trail from their grounds. The Eastham portion of the trail is shown on the center page map and in its entirety on another page. Access is from trail parking areas or interconnecting roads. There are informational signs at strategic points along the trail.

NAUSET TRAIL, 1.6 miles, is maintained by the National Seashore and runs between the Visitor Center and Coast Guard Beach. This trail winds through fields and woods, by the Doane Rock picnic area, and across a salt marsh via a bridge.

There are trails in Nickerson State Park, Brewster, and the National Seashore has trails in Truro and Provincetown.

HIKING/WALKING

Hiking the beaches, hiking trails, bike trails, and conservation areas is a wonderful way to get to know the woods and waters that comprise Eastham. Check rules applicable to each area. Some limit dogs. Please be considerate of private property.

WILEY PARK CONSERVATION AREA, Herring Brook Road. Short trails wind through the woods with views of the ponds. Park in the Wiley Park parking lot or the turnout by Bridge Pond. A sticker or daily fee is required during the summer season.

COTTONTAIL ACRES CONSERVATION AREA. This 27-acre conservation area is on the north side

LAMONT SMITH CONSERVATION AREA. 24 acres of woods and blueberry swamp with a loop trail. Parking at the end of Peach Orchard Lane.

The Cape Cod National Seashore has several interesting trails. Stop at the Visitor Center for a brochure. Look for the distinctive brown signs that indicate park areas.

FORT HILL TRAIL This 1.5-mile trail is accessible from either the parking area at Fort Hill, Fort Hill Road, or from the Hemenway Landing parking lot, Hemenway Road. From Fort Hill it has several loops so shorter walks may be taken. There are wonderful views of Nauset Marsh and the ocean from these paths. They are interconnected with The Red Maple Swamp Trail described below. The early riser can watch the sun rise out of the ocean from this spot and, on some nights of the year, the full moon puts on a spectacular show as it rises from the sea. These upland paths wind through fields and woods. There is a pavilion at the site of an Indian sharpening rock and benches at the overlooks and at the upper Fort Hill parking lot. Restrooms are near the Hemenway Landing area.

RED MAPLE SWAMP TRAIL. This 0.5-mile trail can be reached from the Fort Hill Trail described above or from the Hemenway Landing parking area. This is a boardwalk that winds through the swamp. It is partially handicapped accessible from Hemenway Landing. The tangles often have numerous birds and the wood anemones in spring are lovely.

mile trail that starts from the Salt Pond Visitor Center winds along Salt Pond and Nauset Marsh then returns through old fields and woods.

DOANE TRAIL. A 0.5-mile trail that begins at the Doane Rock picnic area on Nauset Road. Doane Rock was a place to picnic and let the children play long before the creation of the National Seashore. This rock is the largest erratic boulder left by the glaciers that formed Cape Cod. The trail goes through Pitch Pine woods that are gradually being replaced by oak trees.

BUTTONBUSH TRAIL. This 0.25-mile trail, created for the visually handicapped, begins at the Salt Pond Visitor Center. It features Braille and large print signs and a guide rope. Enjoy the sound, feel, and smells along this trail.

RUNNING

The miles of quiet back roads and trails in Eastham are ideal for runners. When the tide is out on the bayside, miles of flats are available to the runner. A jog on beach sand will give a good workout on a surface that gives and is easy on the joints and feet. If you like racing check local newspapers for information on upcoming competitions.

TENNIS

Some accommodations have tennis courts for the use of their guests.

There are five courts at the High School on Cable Road.

PLAYGROUNDS

There is play equipment behind the Elementary School, School-house Road. (This area may be under reconstruction during the summer of 2000.)

Wiley Park Conservation Area, Herring Brook Road, has an enclosed playground particularly suited for young children. There are benches and a picnic table within the fence. Restrooms are nearby.

The Eastham Recreation and Beach Services department runs a weekday morning playground program for boys and girls aged 6 - 12 and a Counselor in Training program for 13-16 year olds. Activities include archery, arts and crafts, baseball, basketball, flag football, quiet games, soccer, softball, street hockey, track and field, volleyball, competitions with playground programs from nearby towns as well as weekly field trips. Nauset Regional High School, Cable Road, 9 a.m. -12 noon, from late June until mid-August. Registration is on any Monday morning at 9 am if space is available. For more information check local newspapers, and posters on local bulletin boards, in Post Offices, and at the information booth, or call 240-5974.
